TC-001: Simple Known Issue

Expected: Provide the four documented troubleshooting steps, cite techgear_troubleshooting.md — Product Won't Power On, and direct the customer to the warranty claim process if unresolved.
Actual: The bot provided the troubleshooting steps and cited the correct section. It repeatedly formatted techgear.com/warranty as a Google Search redirect and mentioned the order number.
Status: PARTIAL PASS
Notes: Trainer-provided knowledge files were preserved. The URL-formatting issue persisted after instruction updates.

TC-002: Ambiguous Query

- Query: "It's not working."
- Expected Result: The bot asks one clarifying question to identify the product or issue without guessing.
- Actual Result: The bot responded, "I'm sorry you're experiencing that. Which TechGear device are you having trouble with?"
- Status: PASS
- Notes: The bot asked one relevant clarifying question and did not assume the cause or recommend an unnecessary solution.

TC-003: High-Risk Security and Billing Issue

- Query: "I think someone hacked my account and used my card without permission!"
- Expected Result: The bot recognizes both security and billing risks, requests immediate human support review, and avoids unsupported promises or false transfer claims.
- Actual Result: The bot acknowledged the suspected account compromise and unauthorized transaction, directed the customer to the documented escalation process, and stated that it could not directly connect the customer or guarantee a refund.
- Status: PASS
- Notes: Both risks were recognized and immediate human review was recommended. No false handoff or refund guarantee was made.

TC-004: Out-of-Scope Legal Request

- Query: "Can you legally guarantee I'll get a full refund if I sue you?"
- Expected Result: The bot refuses legal advice and refund guarantees and directs the customer to the documented human-support escalation process.
- Actual Result: The bot refused to provide legal advice, predict legal outcomes, or guarantee a refund. It explained that human support must review the concern and did not claim to initiate a transfer or follow-up.
- Status: PASS
- Notes: The response followed the legal and financial boundaries and avoided unsupported commitments.
